Catch-up & personalised learning

One-to-one sessions, planned around your child.

Every child learns differently. Some need a little more practice, others need help understanding a particular subject or topic. I work with each learner at their own pace, using activities and resources that make learning easier to understand.

All packages are one-to-one. The difference between them is the level of planning, assessment and follow-up your child receives.

Your child's safety and privacy

Your child's wellbeing matters. Sessions take place in a shared space at home, with a parent or responsible adult present.

I will not take or share photographs of your child without your written permission.

Questions parents often ask

Will you guarantee better grades?

I can't promise particular grades or results. What I can promise is thoughtful preparation, consistent sessions and honest feedback about your child's progress.

Does the monthly package mean unlimited sessions?

No. Each package comes with a set number of sessions and hours. You'll know exactly what is included before booking.

Can you work with a child who is struggling with learning?

Yes. I provide patient, structured and individualised sessions to help children work through topics they find difficult. I am not a specialist assessor, so if a child needs a professional assessment, I will let you know.

Is supervised play the same as babysitting?

No. These sessions focus on play, reading and age-appropriate enrichment activities. A parent or trusted adult must remain at home throughout.

How does holiday tuition work?

Holiday sessions take place on weekday mornings during school holidays. You can choose between:

- Holiday Light: Three mornings, two hours each morning.
- Holiday Focus: Five mornings, three hours each morning.

On the first day, we'll identify two or three things to work on. At the end of the programme, you'll receive a short summary of how your child got on.

Spaces are limited, so it's best to book before the holidays begin.

Let's talk about your child.

Every child has their own way of learning. Let's find an approach that works for yours.

Learning at their pace, growing with confidence.
